Rules for Submitting a State Record Fish Application

- The fish must be weighed on a scale certified for legal trade. Scales in post offices or places of commerce are usually all certified. The scale in your tackle box is not. The weighing must be witnessed by two persons other than the applicant.
- Fish must be caught on rod, reel and line or pole and line and hooked (no snagging) with any legal hook or lure.
- Fish caught from private club or fish hatchery waters, or private ponds not accessible for angling to the public, are ineligible.
- The species must be verified by the Game and Fish Department. The identity of most fish is usually obvious, but there are certain species such as lake trout, splake, brook trout, walleye, sauger and some of the sunfish species that could easily be mistaken.
- Fish must be taken legally in compliance with all Wyoming Game and Fish Department Regulations.
