- Whether the nominee's contribution affected a wide range of natural resources and their use;
- Whether the nominee's contributions were made in a manner that will enable them to be measured in the context of past inductee or nominee contributions, and in the historical setting of the time in which he or she lived or lives;
- The nominee must have influenced conservation and/or outdoor heritage in Wyoming through a sustained and outstanding contribution during the course of their employment, or through volunteer efforts, in at least one - and preferably several - of the following areas:
 - Environmental law enforcement
 - Applied resource management
 - Conservation education
 - Conservation policy formation, legislation and public leadership
 - Conservation-oriented research
 - Conservation literature, art or journalism
 - Contributions to outdoor heritage
- If the nominee is a living person they shall be at a stage in his or her life that the contributions to conservation and outdoor heritage are undeniable, and their contributions are likely not to be impugned by any of their present or future endeavors.

Inductee Selection

The Director of the Wyoming Game and Fish Department is the Chair of the Selection Committee. The committee is appointed by the Chair and serve at the pleasure of the Chair. The Committee shall be comprised of individuals from Game and Fish, outdoor and conservation organizations, and the community who have exhibited a long-term commitment to conservation in the State of Wyoming. Inductees shall be selected by the Committee.

The Committee will review all nominations submitted this year and prior years to make selections. The Committee's decisions are final.
